For Immediate Release

Painting, photographs, illustrations, glass, stone carving, cement sculptures – fifteen talented artists, from Edmonton and Calgary, will have their works of art on display at the Association of Professional Engineers, Geologists and Geophysicist (APEGGA) 2002 Summit Awards® Gala. All of the pieces have been created by APEGGA member's or their family.

There's a 12' panoramic photo, a 3' cement status and a tiny 5" painting. A variety sure to please every eye and satisfy everyone's artistic taste.

APEGGA is responsible for regulating the practice of engineering, geology and geophysics in Alberta. APEGGA's authority is derived from an Alberta statute, The Engineering, Geological and Geophysical Professions (EGGP) Act. Under the EGGP Act, licensure with APEGGA is required to practice engineering, geology or geophysics in Alberta. APEGGA has served Albertans since 1920, now with over 36,000 members.
